Source Policy

This reference is compiled exclusively from publicly available official sources, including:

- Enacted legislation and enrolled bill texts published by government bodies
- Official regulatory guidance, rules, and notices published in government registers or gazettes
- Published international standards (limited to references and summaries that are available under the fair use doctrine, not full copyrighted text)
- Publicly issued executive orders, decrees, and policy frameworks
- Official translations or summaries published by the issuing authority

This Site does not contain, reproduce, or distribute any confidential, proprietary, or non-public information. All source texts referenced are matters of public record. Where a regulation's full text is behind a paywall , only metadata, summaries, and publicly available descriptions are included — not the copyrighted standard itself.

Source URLs are provided for each regulation so that users can verify information against the original official text. We encourage users to consult the primary source for any regulation before making compliance decisions.

AI-Assisted Compilation

Portions of this reference are compiled, structured, and maintained with the assistance of AI tools (specifically, Anthropic's Claude, Google's Gemini, and OpenAI's ChatGPT). Although AI assistance accelerates our research and helps maintain consistency, all entries are subject to human review. AI-assisted compilation may introduce errors in summarization or categorization. The inclusion of a regulation or the mapping of provisions to obligations reflects editorial judgment and should not be treated as a definitive legal interpretation.

Not a Substitute for Professional Compliance

This Site is designed to help users identify which regulations may be relevant to their activities. It is not a substitute for:

- A qualified legal opinion on the applicability of any specific regulation
- A formal compliance assessment or audit
- Regulatory filings, registrations, or certifications that may be required
- Professional advice regarding your organization's specific risk profile

Timeliness

Laws and regulations change frequently. Although we use reasonable best efforts to keep this reference current, there may be delays between when a law is enacted, amended, or repealed and when this Site is updated to reflect that change. Each regulation entry includes a "Verified" date indicating when it was last confirmed against official sources. Users should check the original source to confirm current status.

Jurisdiction

This Site covers multiple jurisdictions worldwide. Coverage does not imply that every regulation in every jurisdiction has been identified. The absence of a jurisdiction or regulation from this Site does not mean that no applicable regulations exist.

Third-Party Links

This Site contains links to third-party websites (including but not limited to official government sources, standards bodies, etc.). These links are provided for convenience and reference only. We do not control, endorse, or assume responsibility for the content, privacy policies, accuracy, completeness, or practices of any third-party sites.

Warranties

By using this Site, you agree and understand that use of content and information found herein is to be taken “as is” and used at your own risk, with no guarantees, representations, or warranties regarding fitness for particular purpose, accuracy, or otherwise. Contact
